

Who will own America's businesses next?

A quiet shift is underway. Here's what the numbers say.

52%

of US employer businesses are owned by people at or near retirement age.

Source: Gallup Pathways to Wealth Survey (2024), citing US Census Bureau data

74%

of employer-business owners plan to sell, go public or give away their business when they step away.

Source: Gallup Pathways to Wealth Survey, 2024

22%

plan to sell or transfer their business within the next five years.

Source: Gallup Pathways to Wealth Survey, 2024 (employer-business owners)

WHAT THAT MEANS

Businesses with customers, staff and cash flow will need new owners.

Some of them could be us.

To walk through that door, we need three things:

Information
to judge a business and its price

Capital
to fund the purchase

The right opportunity before it's gone

Talent isn't the gap. Access is.

Ownership Connect brings the information, capital and opportunities together, with experts and lenders at the table.

Follow Ownership Connect for more →